TEACHER SHORTAGE

Crisis point reached

The emergency teacher shortage in the Altona area has reached crisis point.

With as many as 15 teachers away at a time from six schools, and usually no emergency teacher to fill in, the situation is critical.

Principal of Altona North State School, Mr. D. Maddern says that he can see no solution to the situation.

Pools of emergency teachers are created in different suburbs from which schools can draw when needed.

But Mr. Maddern points out that teachers just do not live in the western suburbs.

He says: "We have a critical teacher shortage in the western and northern district and a critical emergency teacher shortage.

"Teachers are living at the other side of the city. Those areas might have an emergency pool of as many as 15. In Altona North we have only one emergency teacher and she has not been available this term.

"But I must emphasise that I am not criticising or blaming the Education Department in any way," says Mr. Maddern.

"The department is maligned in too many ways from too many directions and this is one point where it really does its best.

"The department is very lenient and understanding of the situation."

"But it can't make people live in the Western suburbs and until teachers do start living in the western suburbs I can see no solution to the problem.

"Shortage of teachers only creates pressure on the rest of the staff and the whole business snowballs."

Mr. Maddern says that emergency teachers usually fit into the school's work programme very quickly.

Principal of Altona State School, Mr. G. H. L.

Treyvaud, reiterates Mr. Maddern's points on teacher shortages.

Of emergency teachers he says simply: "We haven't got any."

He says: "Because of the co-operation of the staff we have been able to manage so far this term, but it means that staff is being taken off special duties such as remedial teaching."

Mr. Treyvaud says that he cannot see any answer to the emergency teacher shortage.

New school in Mills Road?

The Education Department is trying to secure a permanent site in Mills Road for the new Paisley High School.

Car wash coming

Application was received and granted, subject to the building surveyors approval, for a car wash to be installed on Lot 142 Millers Road, Altona.

The application was made by Total Australia Ltd., who operate a service station at the site.

The buildings surveyor has suggested that the waste from the car wash be discharged into the sewer and that adequate parking facilities were available.

Heavenly pair

Altona High School's production of Offenbach's opera, Orpheus in the Underworld, gave Julie Findlay and John Harris the chance to romp with gods and goddesses.

As Eurydice and Jupiter they were in heavenly company, but wanted a change.

During the last scene, they had a hell of a good time dancing in Hades (see story Page two).

STAR GAZE

So far the Altona Council election has progressed quietly, with both sides frantically gathering material.

Only three candidates can be placed on Altona Council.

As yet it is an election without policy.

If you're looking for an interesting night out on August 28, why not drop in to the Methodist Youth Hall, at 7.45.

The West Altona Gospel Mission is showing a Cliff Richard film, His Land, a religious travelodge detailing the history of Israel.

Interesting news this week is that the old Red Robin factory at the corner of Civic Parade and Pier Street may be turned into a clubroom for the Finnish Society.

The hall could possibly be let for a weekly dance to help defray the expenses of re-modelling.

The Star award for good cooking this week goes to Noonan's Bakery.

One of Altonas best assets must surely be the home-made cake lines that pour out of the bakery.

BOB HARRISON TO STAND

Former Councillor Mr. Bob Harrison and pollution fighter Mr. Ted Houston are standing for the forthcoming Altona Council elections.

Altona A.L.P. branch was defeated after a short term of office. Mr. Harrison is chairman of the Pollution Abatement Society, and played as an assistant supply manager for a paint firm; Mr. Houston as a process operator in the oil industry.

Both are family men, who have lived in the area some time.

As the situation stands they will face the combined opposition of retiring councillors Ray Richards, Charlie Carlsson and Ian Stewart.

Mr. Harrison told the Star this week that he will stand to "recapture the drive and initiative of the council, a thing he maintains has been lost."

Other side issues will be the development of sporting facilities, assistance for education, establishing a food wholesale market and a consumer protection organisation.

Mr. Houston will make issues of pollution and a lack of facilities for the entertainment of Altona youngsters.

Mr. Harrison is em-

Extra police, 24 hour station for Werribee

The Deputy Commissioner of Police announced this week that the Werribee Police Station will be up-dated to a 24-hour alert, as soon as the force has sufficient strength.

The local member of Parliament for Melbourne West, Mr. Alec Knight, MLC, made representations to the commissioner for the improvement,

He was told that it may be some time before the improvements were possible.

In the meantime an extra staff member has been applied for. The Chief Secretary has also provided that a house may be found for the officer in charge of the station, so that the residence may be used as an enlargement of the present cramped offices.

Debutante ball

St. Luke's Altona North ladies' auxiliary held its first debutante ball recently at 26 Nicholson Street, Footscray.

Kent, Christine Warr, Marion Colhoun, Ali Holthorp.

Front row, Kerry Wilson, dan-cing instructress, Mrs. Swallowell, Mayor of Altona, Cr. Doug Grant and the Mayoress, Mrs. Grant, Miss Shirley Barnes.

Thousands of parents flocked to school this week to see their children at work.

For many it was to see their children for the first time in a school environment.

Good attendances were reported by all principals. Activities during the week ranged from a debate to verse speaking and choir singing.

Brooklyn State School

The school had a rather successful open day last week with many parents and friends attending.

A new deputy principal has been appointed for the school, he is Mr. B. Holcombe, who replaces Mr. C. Bird.

Altona State School

Altona State School estimated that over 400 people visited the school on open day.

The school conducted normal classes in the mornings and demonstrations in the afternoon.

It is anticipated that the new school library will be opened on December 7 by the director of primary education Mr. R. H. Row.

Work hasn't started on the library as yet. A mothers club staff during education week raised $50 for the school.

Seaholme State School

Two new appointments have been announced at the school.

They are Mr. Andy Scholl, to deputy principal, who will replace Mr. Keith Higgins, and Mr. Malcolm Stewart who will transfer at the end of the year to Irrewillipe.

EDUCATION WEEK

Mr. Higgins will become principal of St. Albans East State.

A new sporting system has been adopted at the school from Altona East, called tabloid sports.

Games are played for 20 minutes and then the players change.

Points are scored and tallied at the end of each round.

The principal, Mr. Edmonds, said this gives each student a chance at each sport.

Mrs. Dorothy Howard, who is leaving the school soon, will send post cards back to the school to aid children in a "Know Australia" project.

She will send postcards and geographical matter to students, from each of the places she visits.

Altona East State

Open day at the school was quite a success. Par-ents attending were wel-comed by the chairman of the school committee, Mr. Strickland, who also in-troduced our two new library staff, Mrs. L. Korbut and Mrs. J. Farm-er.

The school's Mothers' Club played the lady teachers in netball to an 8-8 draw as a part of the days activities.

St. Leo's

Pupils from grades one to four at the school went on a day trip this week to Tullamarine International Airport and the Zoological Gardens as a part of their studies.

The school is interested in hearing from teachers who would like to work at the school next year.

The school is also want-ing parents to register their children for enroll-ment.

Religious instruction for pupils attending State schools has started.

First Communion for all the children in the area will be on Saturday, Au-gust 28.

A special Education Week Mass for catholic teachers and pupils was held at St. Leo's this week.

Brooklyn West

Good crowds attended demonstrations at the school this week as a part of education week activi-ties.

Two recently married teachers, Mr. and Mrs. Manolakakis, returned to the school this week after their honeymoon.

Mr. Ross Stephens from Geelong has been appointed to the school for next year.

His Land a success

A capacity crowd at-tended the showing of His Land, a religious travelogue, at the Altona Baptist Church Hall this week.

The film, which traces the development of present day Israel according to Bible prophecy, held its audience in wrapt atten-tion.

It featured recording artist Cliff Richards, who was responsible for the attraction of so many young people.

Spectators proclaimed the film as a journey into the soul of a nation, echoing from the past, and pointing to the future — the return of Jesus Christ.

"ORPHEUS IN UNDERWORLD"

Students of Altona High School gave an outstanding performance of Offenbach's opera Orpheus in the Underworld at the Civic Centre on Thursday night.

Phil Park's adaptation of the opera is a hilar-ious send-up of the gods, made brighter still with topical jokes, which were added by the cast.

Coming back triumph-antly from batl, Jup-iter turned to the chorus:

"And a big thank you to the Orpheus Choral So-ciety for that magnificent rendering of 'I did him my w a y' by William McMahon."

This line was added by John Harris, who played Jupiter.

Comical in a subtle way, he kept the audience in stitches when he pre-tended to be a fly.

Julie Findlay was an en-chanting Eurydice. Only 16 years old, she is a tal-ented actress with a pure, sensitive voice.

She has appeared on Channel Seven's Swallows Juniors before the show was cancelled.

Lyndsey Smith was a self-confident, entertaining mother-in-law.

Ray Carol, Robert Rennie, Paul Morris, Diane Westhorpe, Paula Hicklin, Diane Robinson, Cor-alie Evans, Henry Ismaili, Cecil Martin, Wayne Oakes and Ron Gordon all deserved credit.

Producer, Paul Borg achieved very good results with an inexperienced chorus and a demanding opera for such young actors.

Musical director, Michael Downes had a dif-ficult task coaching the class in the absence of a music teacher and he suc-ceeded.

The make-up and cost-umes were well chosen, and the scenery pleasing.

CHILDREN'S PROGRAM

Twelve copies of a report from the Y.M.C.A.'s Youth Ser-vices Planning Divi-sion containing pro-posals for a youth programme in Altona have been forwarded to council.

The program suggested by Mr. E. Hamilton-Smith, of the Y.M.C.A. would cost over $1500.

Elderly News

A craft demonstration by Mrs. C. Ward, of Laver-ton was enjoyed by the members of the Altona Elderly Citizens this week.

Other activities during the week were a bowls day on Monday and games afternoons on Tuesday and Thursday.

Special effort winners this week were Mrs. K. Morgan and Mr. E. Dick-son.

Another highlight of the week was the celebration of Miss Lily's birthday.

Miss Lily, a well known Altonian, shared a birth-day cake with her friends at the club.

Some members have en-tered hospital this week.

Mrs. N. Jones and Mrs. Peggy O'Neil are wished a speedy return to health.

Mr. J. Sutton was visited by friends from the club. Mrs. R. Benson returned to the club this week after spending some five weeks in hospital.

THREE LAUNDRETTES?

Council this week approved an application for Altona's first laundrette, made by T. M. and G. R. Hynes of Upton Street, Altona.

The site of the pro-posed coin laundrette is within a fortnight.

The other was defer-red subject to further inquiries.

It is expected that a third application will be made soon.

Societies meet

Altona was the venue for the quarterly meeting of the West Central Regional Group of historical societies this week.

More than 30 people representing seven clubs were present.

After the reading of quarterly reports the secretary of the Altona society showed the group a little of the Homestead's history.

They later toured the museum.

BOATERS CLUBROOM

Altona's Town Clerk and Engineer have been asked to draw up an agreement to make land available to the Altona Boatowners Association for the erection of clubrooms.

The site proposed is op-posite the boat launching ramp in Seaholme.

YMCA activities report — Crofts

Cr. Les Crofts was again elected chairman of the Altona Citizens' and Police Youth Club this wee.

Other office-bearers are: Mr. A. M. Brown, Mr. H. Sparkes, vice-presidents; Mr. V. Simmons, treasurer; Mrs. G. Hogan, assistant treasurer; Mrs. B. Hyde, secretary; Mrs. Kipp, publicity officer; Mr. H. Sparkes, police representative; Mrs. B. Hyde, hall booking officer.

Committee and instructor-leaders, Messrs Hogan, McGarry, Heiner, Mesdames Murphy and Heiner. In his annual report to the club Cr. Crofts said: Early in this current year the activities at the club, although not as active as in previous years, were nevertheless quite satisfactory.

However, as the year progressed, the numbers attending the various classes gradually decreased.

Our leaders have done an excellent job and the committee expresses confidence in their efforts.

The Altona Marching Girls under the guidance of Mr. Kipp and Mr. Clark have continued to grow in strength and our thanks to Mrs. Kipp and the parents for their help.

However, I feel that I express the sentiments of each member of the committee by saying that the club has had better years in almost every respect.

It would be easy to sit back and suggest reasons for the lack of interest towards the end of the year; however, I feel that no single factor is responsible for this apparent lack of interest.

Rather than criticise, would suggest that we are living in a period of change.

Traditional activities of a few years ago are not acceptable to today's teenager.

Furthermore, there appears to be more emphasis on individual rather than group participation.

I therefore consider that the committee will, in the near future, be planning programmes, reviewing the overall management system of the club's activities and if necessary broadening its outlook to consider special interests.

The Lions Club of Altona, through Mr. Len Rowe and Mr. Alan McDonald, have taken an interest in our activities and the committee are indeed grateful for their continued interest.

The Victorian Association of Youth Clubs any way.

through a representative, Mr. Rawson, is behind the committee and indeed have commended the club on their sound financial position and range of equipment and excellent facilities.

With this background therefore, I feel confident that the committee in the coming year will accept the challenge and go forward once again. I know that the Altona City Council will be behind the committee and will support them to provide activities for youth.

In conclusion, may I express appreciation on behalf of the committee to our secretary, Mrs. Hyde, our leaders, the press and to all who have helped in any way.

Letter from Mrs Wells

The Star this week received a letter from long time pollution fighter, Altona resident, Mrs. Vera Wells.

It read "As I have been fighting pollution for 2½ years now and had some publicity, I would like to take this opportunity to say I am not a member of any party or committee and in no way connected with the activities of any anti-pollution body.

I have worked alone, with advice I gather from various sources. If my name is used in any discussion on pollution I would like persons hearing it to seek my confirmation before accepting it as fact.

I have been wondering why we have had the pleasure of such clear air conditions in the past two weeks.

A letter I received from the Minister of Health, Mr. Rossiter, who gives one good reason, part of this I now quote: "Officers of the department are carrying out field work in this area in an effort to establish scientifically, the levels of pollution being encountered".

Seeing it can be clean air over the past two weeks perhaps we can look forward to a healthier future. Vera Wells.

It's the youngest way to blush — for the girl on the go.

And Cyclax does it as no one else can! Three natural, glowing tones . . . that shine and shimmer, that flatter fabulously.

MOTORING SECTION

by
PAUL CODY

Chrysler's surprise of the year for Australian motorists is an unbelievable series of completely original sporting coupes scheduled for public release on August 20. Four eye-catching versions of the Valiant Charger bring exhilarating driving and spectacular styling within reach of everyone from the family of modest means looking for a low-priced youthful touring model to the track enthusiast seeking a fully equipped sports machine.

The Charger (pictured), is Chrysler's unbeatable answer to the growing demand for two-door cars with a sporting flair. Sales of two-doors in Australia, headed by Chrysler's Valiant Regal two-door hardtops, have risen to more than 20 per cent. of the medium car market in mid-1971.

The new models will find ready acceptance among a wide section of buyers in the six-cylinder and higher-priced four-cylinder segments of the market. An even wider sale is expected as a result of the range of options which come with the Chargers, suiting them for every class of Australian driver.

With the four basic models, the Charger, Charger XL, Charger RT and Charger 770, come appointments, engine and transmission arrangements and paint schemes catering for every individual buyer's needs.

The Charger RT will be Australia's choice for both the performance enthusiast and production car racing fans. Professional racing drivers who have tested the RT predict a great future for it in Australia's major racing tournaments.

At the same time, in the hands of the average driver, it is a safe car with superb handling qualities, top sporting performance and acceleration normally found only in cars of much higher engine capacity.

All the qualities normally associated with high-priced imported sports coupes are found at astonishingly low cost in the Charger RT, Chrysler's special offering to the true performance fan and the company's main hope for outright honours on Australian racing circuits.

The RT model was described by Gold Star champion driver Leo Geoghegan as the best engineered road car he had ever driven. He had nothing but praise for its ease of handling, its superlative road holding and balance and the versatility of its engine, enabling "Grannie to take it shopping" as easily as a professional takes it around racing tracks.

Every aspect of the car from its paint treatment to its engine options reflects its role as Chrysler's sports image model.

It is lavishly equipped for the performance enthusiast and in its special 6-pack and track-pack options it represents a formidable challenge in Australia's production car tournaments.

The RT is recognised instantly by its striking grille of red and black bars with quartz-halogen driving lamps mounted between the headlamps.

The character of the car is brought out by the wide black stripe running from the centre of the door to encompass the rear deck.

Styled road wheels in pressed steel with 6½-inch safety rims are fitted with radial ply tyres for road holding commensurate with the RT's remarkable performance.

An anti-roll bar on the front suspension gives stability in keeping with the car's surging power. The transmission system is designed to combine with the versatility and power of the RT's special high performance Hemi 265 two-barrel engine, which has an output of 218 brake-horsepower and is an ideal power unit for the car's role as a performance roadster.

First reunion for air force

RAAF and allied air and ground crews who served in Europe and the Middle East during World War II will hold a reunion dinner at the Hotel Chevron on Friday, September 10.

It will be the first all-squadrons re-union in Victoria since the war and promises to be one of the biggest "bucks" parties ever held in Australia.

The guest speaker will be Australian-born Air Commodore Hugh Edwards, VC, DSO, DFC, of Sydney, who flew in Bomber Command with the RAF.

The patron of the dinner is retired Air Vice Marshal H. N. Wrigley, Air Officer Commanding RAAF London during the war.

Of a total of 20,000 RAAF men who served west of Suez, 7892 were casualties.

Of these, 6532 were killed — 5397 in Europe and 1135 in the Middle East.

One RAAF Squadron alone — No. 460, of Bomber Command — suffered 1083 killed.

Any man who served in the air or on the ground in the RAAF or an allied force in Europe or the Middle East is qualified to attend the dinner.

Tickets, which cost $7.50 (all inclusive) can be obtained from the secretary, "RAAF Europe Dinner", Mr. W. F. Dimmick, 37 Queen Street, Melbourne, 3000, phone 62 7427.

WELFARE SCHEME PROPOSED

A proposal for a regional welfare scheme has been put to the Western Suburbs Municipal Association by the Director of Welfare Service in Sunshine, Mr. G. G. Benjamin.

He has recommended that the association engage consultants to conduct a detailed research programme into the social welfare needs of the area.

He proposes that:

● The association set up a welfare planning and research committee.

● Each city within the association provide $3000 at this year's estimates towards the cost of welfare research and each shire provide $1500.

● A direct welfare service be established to provide each member municipality with a comprehensive welfare service (one day a week in the cities and one day a fortnight in the shires).

● A research worker be involved in this rotating service.

● Research be undertaken into the social amenity needs of member municipalities.

● Local community service boards be set up, to help co-ordinate all voluntary service elements in the community.

In his report, Mr. Benjamin says local, State and Federal Governments are developing welfare but little has been achieved in the integration services independently of these independent developments.

He says the newly established 'Social Welfare Ministry' would welcome approaches of a regional nature.

Mr. Benjamin points out that several councils in the area either employ or are considering employing qualified social workers or welfare officers, but community surveys into the type of worker or the particular needs of their municipality have not been completed.

He points out also that the State and Federal Governments have established offices in the area and are prepared to extend these to provide a regional cover, but they are not prepared to establish such an office in every municipality in the region.

Mr. Benjamin says at present there is little evidence on which to base a case for assistance from Federal and State authorities, to reduce the burden on ratepayers and spread it more equitably over all taxpayers.

He says the results of the 1971 census could be used as the basis for such a survey, but the full results will not be available until late 1972 and this could delay municipal research.

He urges the association to employ consultants to carry out this survey.

If consultants were employed, the survey could be completed within 12 months.

Research would be undertaken into the social amenity needs of the member municipalities, the pattern of expenditure over the next 10 years and the projected costs of development over the next five years.

Representations to the Government would be made on the basis of the facts and trends revealed.

Mr. Benjamin's 13-page report examines the world-wide trend towards regionalisation.

It looks at the achievements of each municipality to date and the development of regionalisation in Australia.

● Members of the Western Suburbs Municipal Association are the cities of Footscray, Sunshine, Altona and Williamstown and the shires of Werribee and Melton.]

FAIR SWAP

Mr. Giovanni Tornaio, a carpenter, of Douglas Street, North Altona, couldn't very well say a thief left him without transport.

Mr. Tornaio left his bicycle in Kororoit Creek Road just after dark one night last week.

When he returned 10 minutes later the bicycle was gone, but another was left in its place.

Among several bicycle thefts in the Williamstown area in the past two weeks, schoolgirl Ann Richards woke up at her home in Richard Street, Williamstown one morning last week to discover that someone had taken her bike from the backyard during the night.

Neil Jewers, of Cox's Garden reported to police the loss of his bike. It was found three days later undamaged in the yard of Williamstown South State school.

From the bookshelf

by Altona City Librarian Cynthia Paltridge

This week Miss Paltridge and her staff review books old and new that will interest readers. These books are now available from your library.

HATCHETMAN, BY David Dodge: John Lincoln is a highly trained bodyguard working in a squad called the Hooligans.

He was trained to place himself automatically between the attacker and the person he was protecting and to draw his gun and shoot as a reflex action.

The instinct for self-preservation was not allowed to function.

In the nine years before this enthralling story begins, John had never had cause to use his skill.

Angus Wilson, in ANGLO-SAXON ATTITUDES, reveals the weaknesses of Gerald Middleton, a professor of early medieval history who very late in his life begins to question the authenticity of an archaeological discovery.

It is through this delving into the past that we learn that Professor Middleton is considered a failure and that he has had little success in his personal relationships.

Angus Wilson's style is to attribute emotions and thoughts to the characters and we are presented with a mentally exciting work. In contrast, Leo Herlihy in ALL FALL DOWN has written a story about loneliness and self-discovery which the reader is left to infer emotions and share some of the events through 14-year-old Clinton's notebook where he continues conversations verbatim.

Clinton idolises his older brother, Berry-Berry, who has run away from home.

With his return, events come to a dramatic conclusion.

PURPOSES OF LOVE. People who enjoy Mary Renault's historical novels will be surprised that her first book, now re-issued, was a love story of today. Her skill as a storyteller was already present at the start of her writing career.

A CURATE IN BOHEMIA is another of Norman Lindsay's amusing tales, this time about a young curate, on his way to take up his first appointment, who drops in to see an old school mate, a dissolute Melbourne artist and finds his stay unexpectedly prolonged.

The book is in reality a brilliant satire on characters met by Lindsay during his early years as an artist.

Watch those horses

Police at Altona this week urged members of the public, particularly children, owning horses to show more care in their stabling.

Many animals, particularly horses, have been destroyed after having been involved in accidents on roads.

Apart from the loss of pets the damage to property has been heavy. Police said they would take tougher action against the owners of animals found wandering.

Stiff penalties can be invoked under several acts.

Police also pointed out that owners are also liable to an almost unlimited liability for injuries sustained by passengers of vehicles.

TOWN PLANNING FOR WILLIAMSTOWN

Noted town planners Randall Champion and Daryl Jackson will be guest speakers at the next meeting of the Williamstown Conservation and Planning Society on Friday, August 27 at the Mechanics Institute, Electra Street, Williamstown.

The meeting is open to all those who are genuinely interested in discussing the future of Williamstown.

The Society is not aiming for a hard and fast plan for redevelopment within Williamstown. It is endeavoring to bring to the public's notice new ideas on planning so that Williamstown will not become a haphazard conglomeration because of uninformed thinking.

The presence of Williamstown councillors at these meetings is appreciated because they can help to discuss problems.

Members of the society and the public are urged to see the film "Multiply and Subdue the Earth," now showing at the Camberwell Civic Centre every Sunday at 2.30 p.m. during August. Admission is 50 cents.

The film shows errors in planning and shows how some of these could be overcome in America.

The society's second newsletter will be distributed this week.

Members are advised that the closing date for items for the next issue will be Friday, September 10.

Altona's 10-man soccer team's great fight

The local derby Altona v. Sunshine City at Kims Reserve on Saturday got off to a disastrous start.

In the very first minute the referee, giving one of the worst decisions ever witnessed, ordered the quiet man, Hans Vanderpole off the field and awarded Sunshine with a penalty kick.

The 18-year-old wonder keeper looked in stunned amazement as he saw the referee point to the pavilion.

A 15-stone 30-year-old ruffian, centre-forward had charged straight into his nine-stone beam-pole-like frame.

The Sunshine player fell backwards and the decision was the long walk plus a free shot at goal.

However, justice prevailed as the penalty kick was sent flying over the bar.

Altona City were now set the mammoth task of playing the next 88 minutes with only 10 men.

Hell hath no fury than that of Altona when set an impossible task like this.

Each man played with a determination never before seen.

Jim Bayliss took over in goals, and, with supporters roaring encouragement, it was 10 tall men playing for Altona City.

Kean, Straubinger and the galloping Herman covered more ground than ever settlers.

Reid, Iordanus, and Miceyski fought tooth and nail for every ball, while Hynes, Copley and Healey played so tight that Sunshine must have wondered which team was man short.

The Kim's Res boys really turned it on spark-a-lark-a-lark-along only bad luck preventing them from taking the lead.

Johnstone in the Sunshine goal was in good form and held his team together.

Jim Bayliss playing in between the sticks for Altona played as if this was his regular position.

He dealt confidently with anything Sunshine had to offer, and on more than one occasion.

TOUGH SECOND HALF

In the second half, Altona threw everything at Sunshine in an all-out attack which made one feel proud to be an Altona supporter.

Miceyski blasted past from close range, Reid hit the bar and Iordanus smashed one on to the up right and how the keeper got to an Ian Reid rocket shot was unbelievable.

The Maroons kept up an incessant flow of attack. Healy and Copley the full-backs were right up on the half-way line pushing every ball that came out straight back in.

Kerr was slinging his accurate passes thru to Herman and Iordanus.

They were up-ended in no uncertain fashion by hard tackling and desperate Sunshine defenders.

What an embarrassment it would have been to them if Altona had won with 10 men.

In soccer it is considered almost impossible to win when playing a man short.

Sunshine might have sneaked a goal as leg weary Altona players dragged every last ounce of effort out.

Jim Bayliss saved the day with a timely tackle that kept the game a scoreless draw.

Make no mistake about it this was a great game. Altona's 10 men stole the show. Altona's mayor, Cr. Doug Grant, was at the game. How proud he must have been to see the city colors of maroon and gold carried in such a courageous and sportsmanlike effort!

Altona downed in table tennis

by Ray Blythman

Altona lost to Williamstown Salvation Army in the last home and home match in the Western Suburbs Table Tennis Association match played at the weekend.

Altona go on to play Australian Glass in the semi-final next week.

Although Bertrams lost to Salvation Army they gained some ground as they won both doubles rubbers.

As each player defeated the opposition No. 3, only one breakthrough against the Army's top players was necessary for a win, providing Bertrams can overcome a greatly improved Australian Glass next week.

Altonians finished the season on a respectable note when they lost 8-3 to Brooklyn Youth Club No. 1.

Les and Keith Reynolds won one singles rubber each and combined well to win the second doubles rubber.

A feature of their game was the fact that they fully extended their opponents in most rubbers.

D1 — NOVA (Altona) were surprised by a confident Seats team in the last round and only scraped home 6-5.

Best players for NOVA were Joe Reece and Trevor Jones, with two rubbers each, and Ari Graen one rubber, whilst for Seats Ian Miller did well.

Altona Working Men's Club were defeated 6-5 by a quickly improving Footscray High School.

AWMC's star player Kevin Peachey was off form on the night and only won one singles rubber as did his teammates, whereas Footscray High players each won 2 rubbers.

AWMC and Footscray clash again next week in the semi-final and AWMC with a return to form should win narrowly to form challenge NOVA in the Grand Final.

Seahome whitewashed GOETZ engineering 11-1 when GOETZ did not field a full team but still finished outside the final three.

Entry forms for the summer pennant are available at WSTTA Centre, Garden Street, Williamstown, or from the Secretary, Ray Blythman, 391 1205.

PRIMARY SOCCER

Last week's children from eight schools in Altona played another round in the Louis Noordenne Cup League.

Altona East 16 defeated Altona nil in an easy game for East.

The took the lead and missed few opportunities.

Brooklyn West 10 defeated St. Mary's 2.

Brooklyn dominated the game from the first.

They went on to win and did just that.

Brooklyn 3 defeated Altona North 1.

Brooklyn finished better in the windy conditions which prevailed during the game.

Good keeping by young goalkeeper in Brooklyn's goal saved many a headache.

Closest game of the day was the Seahome Altona West.

Seahome 2 narrowly defeated Altona West 1.

BIG TENNIS FINISH FOR U/19s

This coming Sunday will see one of the stiffest competitions yet played in Western Suburbs Tennis when Altona under 19s meet Footscray's Diggers for the championship.

Both teams had big wins in the semi-finals played at the weekend.

The game will start at 1 p.m. at the courts behind the Western Oval.

The team is Geoff Wood, captain; Peter Onofretchook, Ian Collins, Suzanne Keown, Yvette Robertson and Beverly Sandilands.

The summer competition will start soon and entries should be made before August 23.

NETBALL FINALS

Altona had mixed luck this week with two teams winning and two teams runners-up in the grand finals of the Netball Association this week.

Briefly A grade were defeated by St. Marks, B grade were defeated by Williamstown, B reserve defeated St. Marks, and C grade defeated Holy Trinity.

A reserve and Holy Trinity will play off next Saturday at 2.30 at the Wilkin Street ground.

A presentation night in the form of a barbecue was held straight after the grand finals at the home of Sid and Netta Hyde on the Esplanade and was a great success.

Presentations were made by Eric Sherman, David Manning, Ken Clayton, Sid Hyde and Mrs. Rene Barnes and Netta Hyde.

BEST AND FAIREST

A Grade: Robyn Webb, runner up equal (Helen Clayton, Diana Adams); A Reserve: Lynne Faichey, runner up Diana Elliot; B Grade: Leanne Webb, runner up Sue McLennan; B Grade: Glenys Thompson, runner up Rona Heaney; B Reserve: Rae Pollock, runner up Debby Webb; C Grade: Deborah Patton, runner up Lynne Dryden. Most improved: Karyn Dingey.

BIRD RACE

Results of the old bird race from Wycheproof, conducted by the Altona Pigeon Club are: M. Mizzi 1, L. Russell 2, W. Haigh and son 3, C. Cooper 4.

Printed and published by George David Gilmore, of 22 Cordington Street, Sandringham, for David Syme & Co Limited Head Office, 250 Spencer Street, Melbourne, 90 0421.

Altona 2-2 draw in A grade hockey

by Lincoln Green

Playing Ivanhoe at Grant Reserve last Saturday, Altona put up a mediocre performance to draw 2-2.

The game started off at a top pace and Altona scored within the first 10 minutes.

However, Ivanhoe were quick to retaliate and equalled the scores almost immediately.

Play was very even with both teams having many scoring opportunities.

It was a particularly poor display on Altona's behalf, as the opposition were playing a kicking-back instead of a goalkeeper.

At the 20-minute mark, Altona broke through to take the lead when Alan Baillie goaled from a scrimmage in front of goal.

Altona should have applied more pressure at this point, but instead they were content to sit back and allow the opposition drive home the equaliser.

The second half saw a very disinterested Altona. They had very little teamwork and were of little threat to the opposition defence.

It was only the good defence work of Altona that prevented Ivanhoe from taking full points during this second half.

Next week Altona come up against second team Kew for their final game this season. With the loss of two key players, Brian Smith and Steve Green, Altona will have their hands full in trying to finish off the season on a good note.

GOALS: S. Cronin, A. Baillie.
BEST: B. Forrester, A. Baillie.

Lacrosse thrashing

C GRADE BEATEN 2-1

Altona started off slowly allowing Fairfield to take the initiative. The first half found both teams very even, but due to silly play by Altona, Fairfield seemed to have the advantage.

During the second half, Fairfield took control of the game, this being the fault of all Altona players, by allowing decisions by the umpires to affect their game.

Fairfield scored two goals, which was enough to finish Altona.

Altona still attacked continually but it wasn't until the last few minutes of the game that R. Lukoszek broke through to score a brilliant goal.

It seems that if "C" Grade are going to win the premiership for Altona this year, they must show more discipline and more self control towards the game.

Goal: R. Lukoszek.
Best: A. Willett, R. Byrne.
